For Undurraga Wine Group, sustainability is not just another initiative: it is a strategic pillar and a way of understanding our craft. After 140 years, we are clear that excellent wine is only possible if we care for the land, the environment, and the people who make it a reality.

This report brings together the progress made in 2025 — from our status as IWCA Gold members to our achievements in recycling, renewable energy, certifications, and the wellbeing of our teams — and, above all, reflects a long-term commitment to the generations to come.

I invite you to explore these pages. The journey continues.

IWCA GOLD MEMBERS

International Wineries for Climate Action (IWCA) is a collaborative working group that brings together wineries committed to the environment and determined to adopt a science-based approach to reducing carbon emissions in the wine sector.

In 2024, Undurraga Wine Group was approved by the IWCA Board of Directors and upgraded its status to IWCA GOLD MEMBER.

Climate change is one of the most urgent challenges we face as a winery. Addressing this crisis requires more than commitments and promises: measurable action is needed. As Undurraga Wine Group, we are proud to be part of IWCA, a movement for #ClimateAction in wine.

FIELDS

Planting mustard and alfalfa between rows to prevent other weeds from germinating, as they block the light needed for weed growth. This way, we achieve healthier vineyards and avoid the use of chemical herbicides.

FUNDACIÓN REFORESTEMOS

Fundación Reforestemos is the largest and most extensive reforestation campaign in Chile's history, with projects in 11 regions, 56 municipalities, and 3 countries. It works on the restoration, protection, and reforestation of degraded ecosystems, recovering areas of high ecological value such as National Parks and Reserves, and building culture and awareness of the importance of native trees.

We have been Undurraga's official winery partner for the foundation for 9 years, helping to reforest native trees throughout Chile. Our contribution is directly linked to a monetary donation to the foundation based on sales of Aliwen wine bottles worldwide.

As a company, we took part in a restoration activity at the Viña del Mar Botanical Park, which was severely devastated by wildfires in early 2024.

GOOD LABOR PRACTICES IN WINE COMPANIES

With the aim of promoting good labor practices and the fundamental principles and rights at work throughout the wine industry supply chain, we are part of this program organized by the Labor Directorate (Dirección del Trabajo) RM Poniente and the International Labour Organization (ILO), within the framework of Responsible Business Conduct in Latin America and the Caribbean (CERALC).

Participating wineries receive guidance so that, through training and audits, they can incorporate practices and policies to establish a labor management system across their supply chain, including the working conditions of their own workers as well as those involved in producing the final product.

This process places special focus on detecting child labor and forced labor; non-discrimination in employment and occupation; and the principles of freedom of association.

10X INITIATIVE
DESAFÍO 10X FOUNDATION

A foundation that seeks to promote companies improving their lowest wages and working to reduce their wage gap to 10X. As Undurraga Wine Group, we share this vision, which is why we have been part of the foundation since 2019.

ORGANIC

With our Aliwen Reserva Especial Cabernet Sauvignon line and our newly launched Aliwen Reserva Especial Sauvignon Blanc, we hold organic certification under the standards of the United States and Canada (NOP), Brazil, Chile, Japan, and Europe. This organic certification has allowed us to offer a more conscious wine line, free from the use of synthetic pesticides and fertilizers.

This same line also holds vegan wine certification from V-label.

RESPONSIBLE CONSUMPTION

At Undurraga Wine Group, we understand wine as an expression of culture and enjoyment that should always be consumed in moderation and responsibly. Promoting a healthy relationship with our products is an integral part of our commitment to the people and communities where we operate.

This commitment translates into concrete practices:

Regulatory Compliance

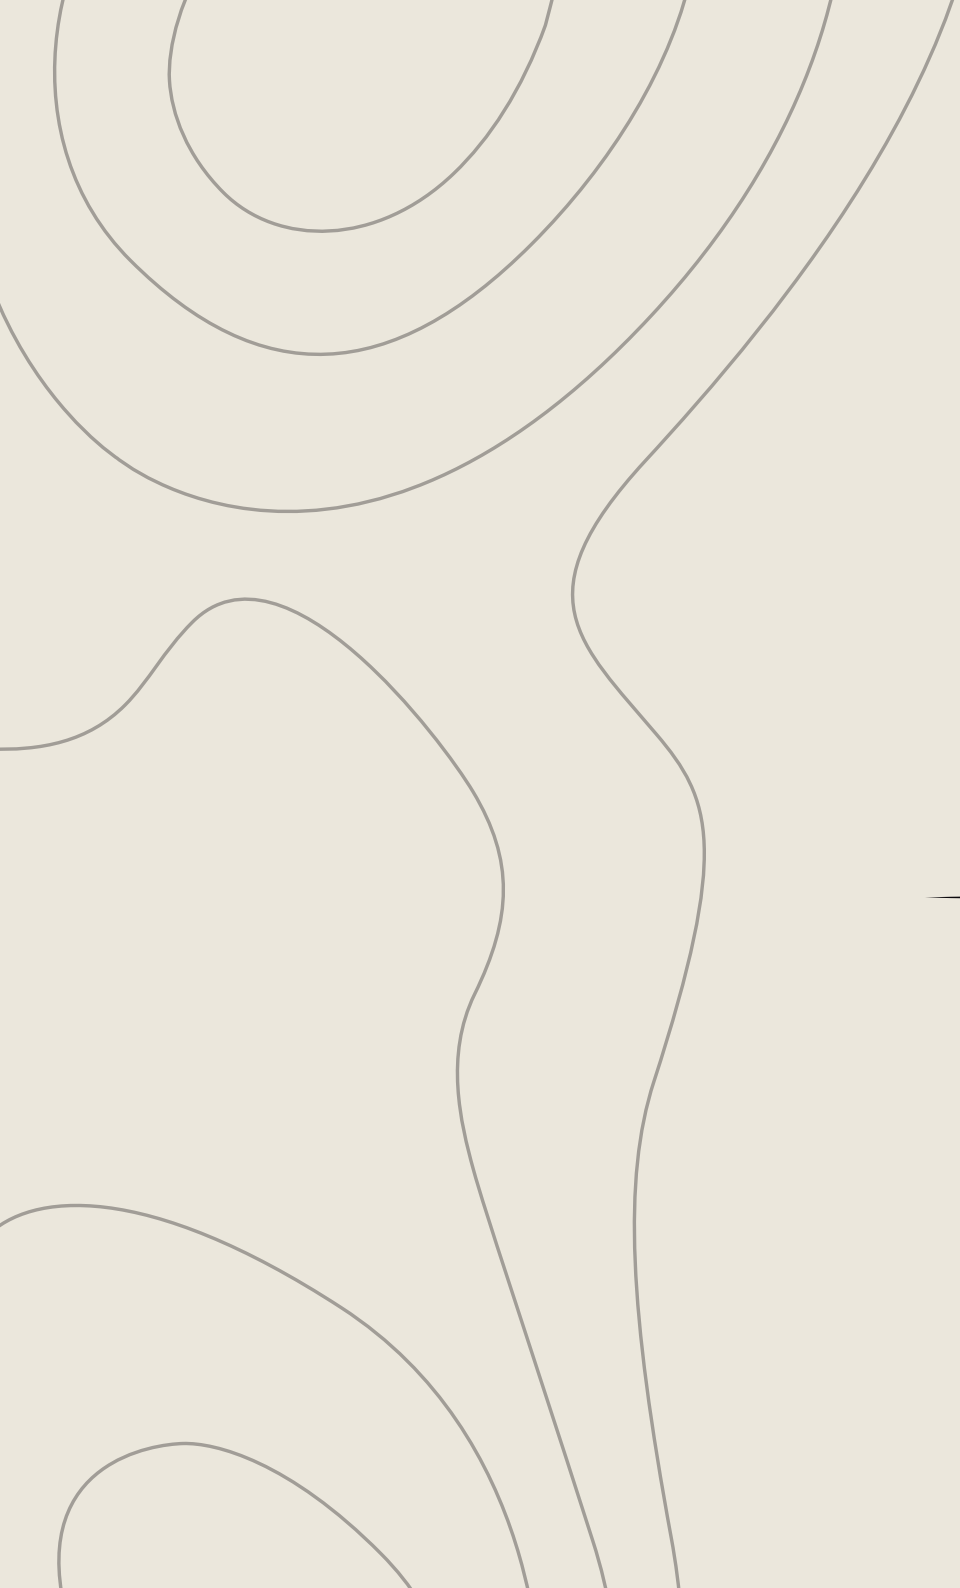

We comply with Chile's Alcohol Law and the regulations of each export market regarding labeling, warnings, and advertising.

Responsible Communication

Our advertising and content are never directed at minors nor do they encourage excessive or risky consumption.

Moderation Messaging

We include calls for responsible consumption across our own channels, reminding people not to drive under the influence of alcohol and to avoid consumption during pregnancy.
